

Project Indigo

BTG Advisory has been instructed to advise on the sale of a portfolio of connector technologies utilised subsea in the oil and gas industry.

The Opportunity

- Project Indigo provides the opportunity to acquire one or more connector technologies which are widely used subsea within the oil and gas industry.
- These are young technologies with strong patent.
- The connectors are well developed and are ahead of the curve in respect of current and future expected safety requirements.
- The connectors are supplied to an impressive customer list of Tier 1 OEM's, with the end customers being large oil and gas operators worldwide.
- This portfolio of technologies is being divested. Part of a wider group, it is considered to be non-core.
